

Q. Introduction of Productivity Programs

A. Productivity software is a category of application programs that help users produce things such as documents, databases, graphs, spreadsheets and presentations.

Productivity software increases efficiency by facilitating people's tasks.