

What is the difference between desktop and Windows in computer?

PC is a general term that refers to all Windows-based computers. The term desktop refers any computer that is stationary, and is not a laptop. All Windows-based desktops are considered PCs, but not all PCs are desktops.